

New York Factory Crumbles, 1 Dead, 20 Feared Trapped

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP)—A large industrial building being erected by scores of workers collapsed with an ear-shattering roar shortly before 11 a.m. today. At least one man was killed, a number injured and an estimated 20 trapped in the wreckage.

Hundreds of rescue workers rushed to the scene and tore at the mounds of twisted steel girders and splintered planking with bare hands in an effort to free trapped laborers.

For a time shrieks and cries arose from the heap of rubble lying on the floor of the one-story building.

Crane cranes also were sped to the site to hoist heavier segments and permit rescue teams to crawl underneath.

Ambulances roared away at frequent intervals with injured. Eight or more were known to be in hospitals.

The building was under construction at the Westbury Industrial Park about 30 miles east of New York City on Long Island.

The steel framework had been erected and roofings and brick finishing work were under way. The structure, 200 feet long and 150 feet wide, was to house an electronics firm.

A steel girder in the roof was believed to have given way, causing the avalanche of steel and wood to cascade downward.

As many as 100 workmen were believed to have been on the job, some on the roof came with little or no warning, there was a wild scramble for life. Some escaped.

One group of 15 men had left the building an instant before the collapse.

Al Long, of Islip Terrace, at work on a nearby building, gave this description:

"All I saw was men running out from under the things as they fell. Some made it but most didn't. The entire roof just fell over."

Another witness, Vergie Abbatiello of Westbury, also standing nearby said:

"I heard a tremendous roar and turned around. There was thick smoke rising up like a

State Winners in RCI to Be Picked

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The State winner in the seventh annual Arkansas Rural Community Improvement contest will be chosen from district champions at an awards dinner tonight.

Contenders are Van Center in Arkansas County, South Central in Clark County, Combs in Madison County, Jamestown in Independence County and Center in Cross County.

The award will be based on 1958 achievements in community living, in the home and on the farm. More than 400 communities took part in the competition.

Radiation of Tests Less Than Normal

WASHINGTON (AP)—The general advisory committee of the Atomic Energy Commission said today that average worldwide radiation resulting from all atomic bomb tests so far is less than 5 per cent of the normal radiation in the air.

The group stated also that the fallout radiation is "less than 5 per cent of the estimated average radiation exposure of the American public to X-rays for medical purposes."

The statement was released in the third day of hearings before a Senate House Atomic Energy Subcommittee on radioactive fallout.

It was approved unanimously by the nine committee members. They are civilian scientists and engineers.

Warren C. Johnson, vice president of the University of Chicago, is chairman.

One AEC scientist testified Wednesday that when all the fallout from tests already conducted has reached the earth, radiation from bomb debris will reach 10 per cent of the maximum permissible level set by an international radiation committee.

Official Says Union Will Win Way Eventually

NEW YORK (AP)—The Steelworkers' Union today charged the steel industry with violating the antitrust laws and labor relations laws and asked the government to investigate.

Arthur J. Goldberg, the union's general counsel, said law violations are involved in industry disclosures of plans. It may invoke to deal with a possible July 1 industry strike.

Goldberg outlined his charges in letters to Atty. Gen. William Rogers and to Irving D. Tanton, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board.

NEW YORK (AP)—John F. Murray, Pittsburgh Steelworkers Union official, said today the union "is eventually going to win its demands even if we have to strike to do it."

Murray, director of the union's District 16, and a cousin of the union's late President Philip Murray, said the public and industry are underestimating the union's solidarity and determination to go on a strike.

Murray's comments were made off the cuff to reporters as he headed a union bargaining team back into talks with Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp.

The J & L talks had broken up Wednesday on their opening day over a union demand that J & L put all its plants and subsidiaries under common contract terms.

Murray said there are too many varying J & L contracts now, 1 & 2 industrial relations.

President George C. Glavin said the company seeks to continue separate contracts to fit local situations.

The J & L talks resumed this morning with this problem unsolved and put aside for further discussion later.

Murray emphasized that the union is determined to win its demands even if it takes a strike to do it.

Both the industry and union have been trying to play down the possibility of a strike in talking with reporters during the preliminary bargaining session.

As the negotiations entered their tense, primarily because of Wednesday's disclosure the industry is already mapping strategy to deal with a possible July 1 industry walkout.

Tries to Link Man With a Slaying

CEDARTOWN, Ga. (AP)—Villagers yesterday attempted to link William Hoyt Ledford to the murder of a man who was killed near here and whose body was dumped on a lonely Arkansas logging trail.

Authorities from Oklahoma read a statement obtained from Ledford in which he said Mrs. Lorraine Jole Stanga, whom he had met by chance in an Atlanta hotel, set up the robbery-slaying of 40-year-old Virgil Glenn Gray Jr.

Probers Seek Newspaper Strike Data

WASHINGTON (AP)—A congressional labor extortivist who was charged today with questioning about claims that he collected thousands of dollars from three New York newspaper firms to assure delivery of Sunday supplements.

Harold Gross, of New York and Miami, had a chance to reply to special investigating committee.

The committee heard testimony Wednesday that Gross collected payments from the New York Times, the New York Mirror, the American Weekly Magazine which many newspapers carry as a Sunday supplement, and a New Jersey company, Al Printing Co., of New Brunswick.

An official of the printing firm and American Weekly authorized payments over a period of years to assure delivery of the Sunday supplement to the New York Journal-American.

Named as the Gross was Charles N. Noonan, who now heads Local 1790 of the International Longshoremen's Assn. and also has had ties with the Teamsters Union.

Chairman John L. McClellan (D-Ark) ordered Noonan brought in for quizzing too.

Gross now heads Teamsters Union Local No. 320 in Miami, but formerly had ties with various New York unions. He has served time in prison as a labor extortivist.

Staff investigators said Wednesday that in the past 14 years Gross, members of his family and Noonan have collected $307,136.80 from New York area news and printing enterprises. McClellan called it extortion money.

Officials of the companies said the newspapers would have lost heavily in advertising revenues and otherwise if they had failed to pay.

Washington Is Host to Gov. Faubus Tonight

WASHINGTON, Ark. (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus is scheduled to speak here tonight at a $25-a-plate fund-raising dinner for the restoration of pioneer Washington.

Washington was Civil War capital of Arkansas and was a key town on the pioneer trail between the east and southwest.

It was disclosed yesterday that a move is underway to invite Faubus to address a joint session of the Alabama Legislature next month.

Rep. Tram Sessions of Jefferson County said at Montgomery that he would introduce a resolution in the Alabama House tomorrow extending an invitation to Faubus.

The governor already has been invited to address a Citizens Council rally at Tuscaloosa, Ala.

James O. Luck, Charles M. Walker and Henry M. Rowe have completed second class Scout requirements, says Scout Master Glen Overturn and Jamie Boyett.

The Board of Review is composed of Cecil Delaney, Charles Nelms and W. L. Tate. Plans were made this week for an overnight trip for the entire troop to Camp Preston Hunt on May 16.

Charles Woodul, Highway 4, next to Radio Station, brought in a bird yesterday which he couldn't identify.

In fact, nobody in the Star office could without a little research. It had a yellow and red beak, light blue topnotch and its body feathers were blue, green and black.

research proved it to be a Gallinule, a water bird of the Rallidae family.

Recall of School Board Trio Favoring Purge Voted by PTA Leaders

Says Strauss Will Win Confirmation

WASHINGTON (AP)—A Republican senator predicted today Lewis L. Strauss will win committee approval of his nomination to be secretary of commerce despite bitter opposition.

Strauss, already serving in the Cabinet under a recess appointment, resumes before the Senate Commerce Committee this afternoon his reply to charges made by Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) and others.

The GOP senator, who asked that his name not be used, said he expects at least three or four of the committee's 11 Democrats to vote along with all six Republicans for Strauss' confirmation.

Anderson, chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee, long has been at odds with Strauss.

Anderson has accused Strauss of telling the committee "unqualified falsehoods" and, as a former chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, of inflating his contributions to atomic developments, of misleading the public, and of withholding information from Congress.

Strauss testified Wednesday that, contrary to what Anderson had said, he had never intentionally withheld information as chairman of the AEC from the Senate House Atomic Committee.

He also denied that he had tried to create any myths about his accomplishments in leading development of the H-bomb or of a system for detecting Soviet nuclear explosions.

Johnson May Be Compromise Candidate

By JAMES MARLOW, Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon Johnson—consciously or not—has created an image of himself which will come in handy if the Democrats in 1960 have to keep peace in the family by selling on a compromise presidential candidate.

This is the image of the tall Texan which emerges after his years as leader of the Senate Democrats and one of the most powerful men in Washington: rather conservative compromiser, who gets things done.

The 50-year-old Johnson who, like President Eisenhower, had a heart attack, has pooh-poohed the thought of presidential ambition. This writer is one of those who has never been convinced.

Johnson, like others in public life, has a large ego. And to him power, even if it only means senatorial power and doesn't extend to the presidency, is very important at The White House, carries with it supreme power and balm for egos.

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The top committee of the Little Rock Parent Teachers Association council today suggested the recall of school board members involved in the dismissal of 44 teaching persons.

The executive committee of the council, which represents all PTA groups in Little Rock, public schools, adopted a resolution endorsing the dismissal action and asking voters to consider a recall election.

While the council did not mention any school board members by name, there was no doubt it meant Ed McKinley, Jr., Ben Rowland and Robert W. Lester, the three members who voted for the dismissals at a meeting yesterday.

In a strongly worded statement, the council protested the high-handed tactics employed by some of the board members and asserted that anyone using such tactics was "not qualified to hold office of such great responsibility."

"It is our feeling that Little Rock voters should carefully consider all legal measures allowed by Arkansas law to achieve recall of officials who use their positions to jeopardize our public school system," the statement said.

Reuther Spurns East Germans

DUESSELDORF, Germany (AP)—U.S. labor leader Walter Reuther today spurned an invitation to attend a Communist labor congress in East Germany.

Louis Saillant, president of the Communist-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions, invited Reuther to come to the congress at Cologne May 8-10 and say what he liked in a speech.

Reuther termed the WFTU a "tool and colonial agent for the foreign policy of the Soviet Union." He rejected the invitation as "a transparent Communist propaganda maneuver to minimize the impact of the tremendous May 1 freedom rally in West Berlin."

Reuther, vice president of the AFL-CIO, is touring West Germany. He spoke at West Berlin May Day labor rally.

White Men Indicted for Rape of Negro

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—A grand jury of 18 white men indicted four white youths Wednesday for raping a slender Negro girl.

The jurors heard witnesses including the 19-year-old victim for nearly seven hours before filing into a hushed courtroom and handing their presentment to Circuit Judge W. May Walker.

Only once before in Florida history has a rape case drawn such wide attention. That was in 1949 when four Negroes were accused of raping a 17-year-old married white girl.

The courtroom gallery was almost filled with Negroes Wednesday. Many of whom had kept their segregated seats all day, but there was no demonstration when Walker announced the indictments had been returned.

The four will be arraigned Friday and a trial date set. They are Patrick G. Scarborough, 20, Air Force man on leave from an Alaska base; Wilton T. Collinsworth, 24, married telephone line man; David Ervin Beagles, 18, a high school student; and Ollie Stoultz, 16, a distant relative of Police Chief Frank Stoultz of Tallahassee.

They have confessed finding the victim, her escort and another Negro couple parked early Saturday morning after a college dance, taking her to a lonely spot at gunpoint and raping her by turns.

Rape can bring the death penalty but never in Florida history has a white man gone to the electric chair for assaulting a Negro. Several Negroes have died for raping white women.

None of the four Negroes, accused in the 1949 case was executed although one was killed by a posse and a second was shot to death by a sheriff who said he tried to escape on route to his trial.

A third was sentenced to life imprisonment after a jury recommended mercy because he was only 17. The fourth, Walter Lee Irvin, was convicted twice and sentenced to death but his sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

Word that the four white men were indicted was received calmly by students at Florida A. and M. University where the victim is enrolled. Earlier the students had boycotted classes and held mass rallies to protest the attack.

congressional victory in 1958. The Democrats' overwhelming congressional victory in 1958, which meant they could now drown the Republicans in votes, caused some persons to guess that they would take a strong liberal turn and consider their victory a mandate to do so.

Others in Washington, remembering something, took a more limited view. Johnson and his counterpart in the House, Speaker Sam Rayburn, a fellow-Texasan, not only completely tossed Democrats in Congress but have shown themselves over the years to be essentially conservative.

So it could be assumed that with their power and their attitude they would lead Congress down a middle road. And that's what they've done so far in this first session after last year's election triumph.

But to any Northern liberals dissatisfied with his leadership, Johnson can offer a solid and realistic explanation.

True, the Democrats as a party far outnumber Senate Republicans. But Democrats and Republicans are divided up into a small group of liberals and a big majority of conservatives in both parties, particularly among Southern Democrats.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The United States will lift a five-year ban, probably an ape, into space within the next 60 days, says the chief of the Army's space program.

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, commander of the Army Ordnance Missile Command, did not say what type of animal would ride in the nose cone of a Jupiter missile, but he indicated the best guess would be a monkey.

He told of the coming venture at a news conference Monday.

The launching will be another step in the program aimed to put a man in space. An effort will be made to recover the nose cone after it plunges earthward through the atmosphere.

Marlin, a Reidsville tobacco worker, was given an 18-month suspended sentence, placed on probation for five years and fined $250. He was given a 6 to 12-month sentence when he was convicted in March 1958, but he appealed and was granted a new trial.

Monday teeth have been extracted with no other pain killer than a process called "audio analgesia." He said receivers are put over the patient's ears and he plays the music from a large recorder, regulating the volume himself. The recorder also simultaneously transmits a noise like the distant roar of Niagara Falls.

TOKYO (AP)—Red China served notice today she holds full sovereignty over Tibet and will tolerate no interference by any foreign country or by the United Nations.

Beiping radio accused India of trying to prevent China from exercising full sovereignty in the revolt-torn religious state.

Although not abusive in tone, it was a firm reply to Indian Prime Minister Nehru's recent statement in Parliament that he thinks the Tibetan revolt can only be settled by giving the area autonomy.

GINCINNATI (AP)—Miss Matilda Krohne, 77, had been on relief since 1940 when she died last week.

Welfare workers rummaging in her home discovered cash and stock worth nearly $30,000.

John Flynn, manager of the Aid For The Aged office, said he would file suit in Probate Court to recover funds equal to the amount given Miss Krohne through the years.

Miss Krohne left no will, Flynn said. Her only known relative is a cousin who once lived here.

CONSTANTINE, Algeria (AP)—Strong military and police patrols kept an eye today on this tense east Algerian city where new terrorist attacks have brought swelling resentment against President Charles de Gaulle.

After two days of demonstrations against the president's attempts to negotiate a peace with the nationalist rebels, a delegation of French Algerian youths called Tuesday night on Gen. Eugene Jannet, military commander of the region, to demand harsher punishment for convicted terrorists.

Late in the afternoon, Furlong topped a hogback less than a mile east of headquarters, and had his long look at the ranch yard. Upwards of 50 saddle ponies were in the horse trap, others in the corral. A grassy smear of smoke showed above the blacksmith shop in front of which several horses were tied, and a chuck wagon was backed up to the commissary doorway.

Empire's roundup would get under way at once. At that moment, Jules Pardee sat on the front gallery of his house watching the crew make final preparations. Three men repaired a wagon that would carry the bedrolls, two more mended a big tarp, others toiled provisions from the commissary to a chuck wagon, oiled harness, stretched new ropes, and did the countless new ropes, and did the countless new ropes, and did the countless new ropes.

other tasks that were necessary for a beef gather. In front of the blacksmith shop three horses were being shod simultaneously; the last of 19 since noon.

Always Pardee had enjoyed this sight, which prefaced the most important event of a cowman's year — beef roundup. But now, with late sunlight fading from the compound, it held a special significance and gave him special satisfaction. All this activity was traditional except for one important difference: It usually took about three days. He had insisted that it be accomplished in one.

Clee Veto had doubted it could be done. But Clee's doubts hadn't kept him from trying. That, Pardee thought now, was the thing he liked best about his foreman. Veto might not agree with something, and say so, but he never questioned a command nor spared any effort to carry it out. Veto had his faults, of course. Too quick on the trigger, for one thing. But he could get more work out of a man, and more miles out of a horse, than any ramrod in Arizona Territory.

Yet Veto hadn't caught Jim Furlong.

Clee Veto came to the gallery and announced, "It's done, Jules."

Evening's long shadows were reaching across the compound now. Pardee said, "Before dark, Clee, like I told you, and handed Veto a cigar. 'Rest your pants,'

When their cigars were going, Pardee said, "One month from today you should put 5,000 beavers onto the holding ground at Junction."

"Forty six hundred, give or take a few head," Veto corrected.

"Enough to quiet Tate Holcomb. And it will quiet some others as well. I listened to a smear of talk in town. Clee, too much talk from too many people. And that reminds me, Sid Link says Furlong proved to him that he was at West Camp the morning of the payroll robbery."

"How could Furlong prove that?" Veto asked.

"By telling Link what Simpson said about those personal belongings that were toted out of the cabin. Link says Furlong named each article exactly, and where it was put in the yard. A man wouldn't know about that unless he did it."

Plainly reluctant to acknowledge this, Veto said, "That means Furlong didn't rob you."

"And Rule didn't burn West Camp. You guessed wrong about Rule."

Veto gazed across the dust-veiled compound as if making a tally of men passing into the lampit cook shack. Finally he said, "Rule must've seen the smoke. He rode over there and got a horse shot out from under him."

"And later got shot himself."

A program on the new study of Africa was given by Mrs. H. O. Kyle Sr. She brought news of the Methodist missions in Africa as well as an article "Land of Beauty and Decision" by Bishop Ivan Lee Holt, which appeared in the current issue of "The World Outlook." The ladies joined in an open discussion of this topic.

"Bless Be the Tie That Binds" was sung by the group, and they were dismissed with prayer by Mrs. Rufus Sorrells. Preceding the social hour the circle members in bed. That was a bad mistake, Clee. It set a lot of folks against Empire."

"Rule was a thief," Pardee nodded, adding, "Count on it. I don't like it used to be. In the old days nobody questioned the killing of a cow thief, or putting the boot to slow-eking nesters. But no more."

"A thief is still a thief," Veto said. "If Furlong didn't rob you, who did?"

"Hard to say. Link thinks it was a stranger he saw in town. But it might have been Mae Gillum. All I heard was his voice, and it sounded like Furlong."

"Presently, as they walked toward the cook shack, Veto said, 'I'm leaving two men here with you, Jules.'"

"In case Furlong gets notions about selling another bonfire."

"There was a remote sound of horses trotting about the corral. Risen dust, drifting across the compound, made a line of light. Veto halted, listening, and as Shorty Sublett came out of the cookshack, said, 'Go take a look at the horses.'"

Pardee chuckled. "You're getting spooky as an old maid with mice in the pantry," he accused.

"Perhaps," Veto admitted.

"One of those green broke brones trying to hug the hay," Pardee suggested.

"They were at the doorway when Shorty Sublett ran across the compound and yelled, 'Horses are gone!'"

"Gone where?" Pardee demanded.

"Yonderly. I saw somebody hazing them through the horse trap, but I had no gun with me."

"Veto drew his pistol, shouted, 'Get your guns, men!' and ran toward the corral."

For a brief interval, while dim shapes raced across the compound, Jules Pardee stood in shocked silence. Then, as the significance of it came to him, he cursed Jim Furlong in a roaring, rage-clotted voice.

Has Formula for a Good TV Program

By WILLIAM EWALD
United Press International

NEW YORK (UPI) — There's really only one formula for a TV situation comedy: round up some grownups and some children. Then have all the adults act like children and all the children act like grownups.

Pock's Bad Girl, a situation comedy which aired in on CBS-TV Tuesday night, is certainly no worse than other TV offerings of the genre, and, in some ways, a good deal better.

It owns players of skill in Wendell Corey, Marsha Hunt and Pat McCracken. It is on tape rather than film which gives it a sure face the near-clarity of a live picture. And it displays occasional sparks of non-dollishness.

Nevertheless, off the evidence of Tuesday night's opener, it would say it falls into the minimal pit of most of TV's family comedies. Father is a research physicist, but even so, acts like a bit of a humbughead. Mother is less convincing and anti-man than most TV mamas, but she seems a little bit too simple-minded and one-dimensional to be quite real.

As for the daughter, played by young Miss McCormack, she is strictly from Mars. Tuesday night, Miss McCormack essayed the role of a 12-year-old who fell in love with her art teacher and pursued him with all the wit and wit of a 17th Century courtesan. Well, practically, after all, this is a family show. The proceedings were impossibly the resolution of the problem unsatisfactory and the dialog excessively arch.

Good Progress in Planting

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The federal state Crop Reporting Service said today that Arkansas farmers made excellent progress in land preparation and planting of spring crops last week.

The report said gains were noted in planting of cotton, rice, corn and soybeans.

Early corn fields already were being cultivated.

Most northern counties need rain but elsewhere county agents reported generally adequate moisture.

The report said Arkansas peach crops were making normal progress but only a fair apple crop was expected in Washington County. The grape outlook in the northwest Arkansas was good and strawberry movement was on the rise. Tomatoes were making good growth in south Arkansas.

Watermelon planting was nearing completion in Hempstead County.

TELEPHONE TALK

"They tell me that, on the average, it takes $100 for a school to educate a child for one year. Since we at the telephone company just paid our taxes, I got my pencil out and did some figuring."

Our ad valorem tax in Hempstead County for 1958, was $15,177 (that's $800 more than last year). If my calculations are right, that's enough to pay for the schooling of 84 children.

That seems to me like a pretty impressive figure, and it's nice to think that tax payments are doing so much good.

To Sons and Daughters

If mother's Day has caught you on the run, but still with enough time to pick up a last-minute gift, you can do right by that special person yet.

Just call the telephone company and order an extension telephone in color for her kitchen or bedroom. You'll make a big hit.

Besides, a convenient color telephone will give her pleasure all year long, and also remind her that every day is "Mother's Day" with you.

Make It A "Holiday" Weekend With A Long Distance Call

Last year, some of us had a three-day weekend because Memorial Day fell on Friday. It'll be the same way next year, when it comes on Monday, and chances are that we'll go out of town for a visit.

But this year the calendar threw us a little curve and Memorial Day lands on Saturday. This cuts out the chance for a three-day holiday, which means there's not enough time to pack the kids in the car for a trip to see friends or family living out of town.

Since a holiday is a family get-together day, several of my friends have told me they still plan to "get together" with a long distance call sometime over the weekend.

After all, "it's the next best thing to visit in person," one fellow said, "and we could make quite a few out-of-town calls for the cost of traveling over the weekend."

It makes sense to me, and I hope many of you will perk up your Memorial Day weekend with a long distance call to friends or family.

As you know, rates are lower after 8 P. M. weekdays and all day Sunday. And when you call, try station-to-station. If you do, you'll be able to make three calls for about the price of two.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Over 100 Little League Players Given Tryouts

Over 100 prospective Little League players turned out on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons for tryouts at K-Park.

Of this group, approximately 35 boys will be brought up to fill vacancies left by last year's graduates. The 12-year-olds are selected by team managers on the basis of their hitting and fielding ability as well as their physical development. No boy will be brought up into the Little League if there is a chance of his being injured because of size or physical strength.

After Little League rosters are filled, the remaining candidates will be placed on Doctor's League teams where they may play with boys of their own age and ability. Should a player show exceptional ability while playing in the Doctor's League, he may be brought into the Little League by any team with a player vacancy.

All managers will be contacted as to the time and place of the player auction which may possibly have to be postponed until early next week because of the Lions' Club broom sale.

Yanks Take Two Games in a Row

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

For the first time in two weeks, the New York Yankees have won two games in a row. For the first time in 13 games, they've managed to score more than two runs in any one inning. And for the first time in a week, they've gained ground in their fight to get out of the American League's second division.

That's how dreary things have been of late for the world champions.

They flashed some of their long missing power Wednesday night at Kansas City for a 7-4 victory that left them seventh, but edged them within two games of fourth place and within 3 1/2 of first.

They did it in a quick explosion scoring all their runs in the first three innings and then getting on a pair of singles in six innings of superb hitout relief by the Yankees.

Baltimore's spilled first place Cleveland 5-3, the only other AL night game after Washington had rapped the Chicago White Sox 6-4 and Boston hammered out a 17-6 victory over the Detroit Tigers, who had won three straight.

In the National League, first place Milwaukee defeated Los Angeles 5-4. The Chicago Cubs beat Pittsburgh 3-0 on Dave Hillman's two-hitter and St. Louis got past Philadelphia 8-7. Cincinnati and San Francisco were idle.

The Yankees got five hits and three runs before loser Bob Grim (3-2) and reliever Ralph Terry could get the man out. Tony Kubek opened with a homer, catcher John Blanchard, an outfielder doubled for the flu-struck Yanks, doubled and came home on Gil McDougald's double. Then Stieber capped

Shark Combat Model Is First Successfully

CABE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—A combat model of a powerful Shark guided missile reportedly completed a successful intercontinental-range test flight today—the second in a month.

The sleek missile roared aloft late Tuesday night and eight hours later, it was landed, dropped at dummy warhead on an impact area near Ascension Island, 5,000 miles from the launching site.

It was one of the final triumphs for the 60-foot Northrop weapon before it becomes operational with troops. The missile has been fired more than 70 times from the Cape.

The Shark, first U.S. weapon capable of carrying a nuclear warhead more than 5,000 miles, is expected to be deployed with troops soon at Presque Isle, Maine.

Rockefeller to Auction Cattle

MORRILLTON, Ark. (AP)—Forty Santa Gertrudis cattle from the herd owned by Winthrop Rockefeller will be auctioned at the oil millionaire's Petit Jean mountain-top estate Saturday.

A similar sale last year attracted cattlemen from eight states and resulted in the purchase of 39 Santa Gertrudis cattle for a total of $170,000.

A record price for a Santa Gertrudis female—$11,000 for a two-year-old heifer—was paid at last year's auction.

Rockefeller acquired the first purebred Santa Gertrudis cattle for his farm in 1953, the year he moved to Arkansas. Since then his herd has grown to 800.

the frame with an RBI double. They scored another three in the second inning on Norm Stieber's homer, then closed their scoring in the third on a bunt, their 10th hit—an error, wild pitch and a sacrifice fly by winner Art Ditmar (1-1).

Bobby Shantz relieved Ditmar in the eighth after a solo home-run by Ray Corv.

Baltimore's young Mi Pappas, still a week shy of his 20th birthday, stayed unbeaten (3-0) as the second place Orioles broke loose for four runs in the seventh inning at Cleveland against Gary Ball (2-2).

The Indians, who lead by 2 1/2 games, made it close on Ray Webster's first major league homer in the ninth. It came with two on against Billy Loes.

Rookie Bob Allison's first grand slam wrapped up Washington's most successful (7-2) west coast trip in a decade, hauling the Nats from behind in the seventh inning against Early Wynn (3-2). Camillo Pascual (2-2) was the winner with relief help.

The Red Sox were blanked on one hit for four innings by Detroit's Paul Foytack—then broke loose for six homers and all their runs in the next four frames. Foytack (0-4) gave up solo homers to Frank Malone and Marty Keough, and a two-run shot by Dick Gernert. Jackie Jensen then tagged Tom Morgan for a two-run homer, and Gary Geiger rapped a pair of two-run blasts off George Suice and Pete Burnside.

The Tigers had three homers, two by Al Kaline good for four runs against Tom Brewer, and a two-run swing by Lou Berberet off Frank Baumann, who won his first for the flu-struck Yanks, doubled and came home on Gil McDougald's double. Then Stieber capped

St. Louis Finds One Run Can Mean Pennant

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Ever wonder just how important one-run deficits can be in a pennant race? Ask Solly Hemus. With out him, the St. Louis Cardinals could be first in the National League. With him, they're last.

Don't shrug it off. Sure, Los Angeles, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh could be leading the league, too, by reversing their one-run losses. But the weight of those one-run deficits hangs heaviest on the Cardinals.

St. Louis has played 22 games. Half of them have been decided by one run. They've been handed half of their 16 defeats by that margin and have gained half of their six victories the same way.

The Cards gave Hemus, their rookie manager, a tough time again Wednesday night, coming from behind with four runs in the eighth that proved just enough for an 8-7 victory at Philadelphia. They had lost by the same score to the Phillies Tuesday night.

For the record, while the Cards are 3-8 in one-run games, Milwaukee is 4-3, Cincinnati 3-4, San Francisco 4-2, Los Angeles 4-3, Chicago 4-5, Philadelphia 5-4 and Pittsburgh 3-3.

Milwaukee's first-place Braves stayed that way with a one-run victory Wednesday, beating Los Angeles 5-4. The Chicago Cubs beat Pittsburgh 3-0 on Dave Hillman's two-hitter. Cincinnati and San Francisco tied for second, a game back of the Braves, were idle.

In the American League, the New York Yankees won two straight for the first time in a dozen games, winning 7-4 at Kansas City. Baltimore spilled first place Cleveland 6-5. Washington rapped the Chicago White Sox 6-4 and Boston belted Detroit 17-6.

Stan Musial's first home run of the season—the 39th of his career—triggered the Cardinals' winning eighth. Joe Cunningham also ripped a two-run pinch double in the rally against losing reliever Jack Meyer (3-2).

The Braves held to an unearned run for six innings by Gene Snyder and reliever Johnny Klippstein, came from behind on Johnny Logan's two-run single in the seventh and RBI singles by Ed Matthews and pinchhitter West Covington in a two-run eighth. Al Fowler (2-2) was the loser. Bob Giggie gained his first major league victory in his first decision with two-innings-of-hitless shutout relief.

Hillman's first gave up a pair of singles in his first shutout. He had lost his first in three decisions with a walk, Bobby Thomson's double and George Altman's single putting it away in a two-run second.

Unified Space Work a Must, UN Group Told

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The United States told a Soviet boycotted U.N. committee today that the world can expect great things from earth satellites in the fairly near future if every nation cooperates in exploring space.

"In no field of endeavor is co-operation among nations more appropriate or more necessary," U.S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge said in his organization's opening of the U.N. Committee on Peaceful Uses of Outer Space.

"The job is far too big for any one nation, no matter how big or how advanced in technology that nation may be. Every nation has a part to play and all peoples stand to gain from the results."

Lodge did not mention the boycott of the 18-member committee by the Soviet Union.

Delegates of four other members stayed away. Those were Communists Czechoslovakia and Poland, which backed a Soviet charge that there are too many Westerners on the committee; and India and the United Arab Republic, which said that to meet now serves no useful purpose. Representatives of all the other 13 were on hand.

Lodge said that, with full international cooperation, earth satellites in the fairly near future could:

1. Scan the whole earth for weather data and make forecasts possibly weeks in advance;
2. Station for radio messages and perhaps be used for international TV;
3. Gain geographic details for mapping unexplored lands, and
4. Possibly enable ships, by tracking satellite radio signals, to calculate their positions within less than a mile in any weather.

Scientists, he added, hope to set up an astronomical telescope in outer space to view the stars without atmospheric distortion.

"Finally," he said, "there is the near certainty that man himself will circle the earth in satellites within a few years—and that sooner or later, he will travel in interplanetary space."

The United States took the lead in pressing for today's meeting, which was to elect officers and set up subcommittees. Military aspects are ruled out of the committee's jurisdiction.

Both Visitors to Washington Have Courage

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON BB(3)—The two aging men out of the history books who visited Washington this week—Harry S. Truman and Sir Winston Churchill—had in good measure what any leader of history needs as a minimum: courage, vision, and determination.

Some never had much more than that. Others had something extra: imagination, or extravagance, or daring, or recklessness, or cruelty, or cunning, or patience, or great compassion.

Both Truman and Churchill had an extra something—call it an attitude—which set the tone of their leadership in such a way that it symbolized the spirit of their countrymen at a time of great trouble. Churchill, who worked under more terrible handicaps, will surely hold the larger place in history. But Truman, responding to the less glittering requirements of his time, shaped and changed the world, too.

Churchill, by his mastery of Britain's greatest pride, Mr. Langston, articulated for the masses of his countrymen their reactions to terror and barbarism.

He did more than that. He became their rallying point.

The nobility of his phrasing—so plain and understandable that all could identify themselves with him—gave Britons a sense of historic mission.

If any man in history can be said to have carried his people to victory with him on the sheer strength of his indomitable and incorruptible spirit, it was Churchill.

Truman had tone of a different kind, but only in details. Less colorful, that was sure. Less articulate, too. But his attitude was the same.

"He was never able by the magic of his language—for he lacked the knowledge, the feeling and the mastery of Churchill in that field—to lift his people to heights that exceeded their own imagining.

But then, of course, Truman never had to. His problems were different and he did not have to arouse his country from its shattered ruins, to confront its crises.

Nevertheless, many millions of his fellow Americans were able in one way or another to identify themselves with him.

He was a plain, unpretentious man, self-made, self-confident, with a quick temper, a quick response to anger, and a profound sense of the importance of remaining free.

With this natural and well-understood foundation, what Truman symbolized when danger from the Soviet Union came was America's own historic conception of itself: A strong land which wishes no ill will to anyone, will endure pressure but only up to a point, is willing to fight for what it believes is right, and confidently believes in the ability of human beings to achieve a good life if given a chance.

There was a measure of self-interest in this country's willingness, under Truman's leadership, to pump billions of dollars in economic aid into Eastern Europe. It helped stop the onrush of communism.

But there were also sympathy and concern for both the welfare and the freedom of the West Europeans. They were given another chance, at American expense, to achieve a good life.

When Stalin began his first post-war pressure on Greece and Turkey, Truman then unhesitatingly reversed the whole historic course of America's peacetime isolationism by rushing aid to the Greeks and Turks.

This action was more than a historic reversal of American foreign policy. Through it Truman acknowledged and accepted for the United States the responsibility for thrusting it by the second world war. The immediate effect was to stop communism in southern Europe.

When next Stalin tried his luck with the Berlin blockade, he was thwarted again with the bold and imaginative Berlin airlift.

In all these things, which required American sacrifices, Tru-

DOROTHY DIX

Preparation Pales
for Planner's Pal

By DOROTHY DIX

Dear Dorothy Dix: I'm a junior in high school and have been dating Butch, who is 21, for almost three months. He's sweet, my parents like him and we have fun together. Sound's perfect. Well, it is, except for one thing. I like to plan things but Butch never gets enthusiastic about planning. I suppose this is possessiveness on my part. How can I get over it? I really want Butch to plan things with me. — Michele

Dear Michele: Perhaps Butch doesn't care for the responsibility of planning and is perfectly content with any arrangements you make. This could be a real situation for you to know. It's much better to have one planner and one non-planner than to have two people constantly bickering over whose ideas get consideration. Don't be arbitrary in your plans; ask Butch to give you his ideas and see that some of them are carried out. But don't make long range plans — they may not fit into his future.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Our 10-year-old daughter is very headstrong. She wants to date a boy who was in jail for 18 months; he was in trouble with a girl and beat her up. We say she can't date him; she says anyone can get into trouble once. Should we move to get away from him? — Mrs. A.A.

FOR ATHLETE'S FOOT

Use T-4-L liquid for 3 to 5 days. Watch fresh-as-a-daisy, healthy skin replace the infection. If not delighted with instant-drying T-4-L, your 48¢ back from any druggist. Note: T-4-L is especially for severe cases. Use T-4-L FOOT POWDER too — gives antiseptic, soothing protection. NOW at Gibson Rexall Drug.

Dear Mrs. A. A. Move as fast and far as a vehicle can carry you. New friends and new surroundings will give your child a different outlook on people. Borrow a copy of "Emotional Problems of Adolescents" by J. Ross-well Gallagher and Herbert L. Harris. It may suggest ways to handle your headstrong daughter. If you are interested in further reading, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for my leaflet, "Dealing with the Adolescent."

Dear Dorothy Dix: Perhaps if you write something in your column about our problem, my mother might change but I think it's a hopeless case. She is 70 years old, looks 60 and is a fine healthy woman. Yet, on the average of every other week she insists on having a doctor in. Each time he tells her there's nothing wrong. She really wants to be sick and has always demanded attention in all kinds of ailments. She invents all kinds of ailments. She and I managed to get it by any means. She lived with my brother for five years, until his wife had a nervous breakdown and mother was asked to leave. My wife and I haven't had a vacation since she came here. Whenever we suggest one, mother develops symptoms and can't be left alone. The only child home is our youngest, a 16-year-old boy. If we go out for an evening, mother insists on having the door locked from the inside and won't get up at 10 o'clock to let the boy in. However, if we're home for the evening, she stays up until 11 or 12. Is there anything we can do? — A Perplexed Man

Dear Son: You can't certainly thank the good Lord for having a patient, understanding wife. She has your mother all day; you only

Proclamation

WHEREAS: The annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States has been officially recognized and endorsed by the President of the United States and the Veterans Administration; and

WHEREAS: V.F.W. Poppies are assembled by disabled veterans; and the proceeds of this worthy fund raising campaign are used exclusively for the benefit of disabled and needy veterans, and the widows and orphans of deceased veterans; and

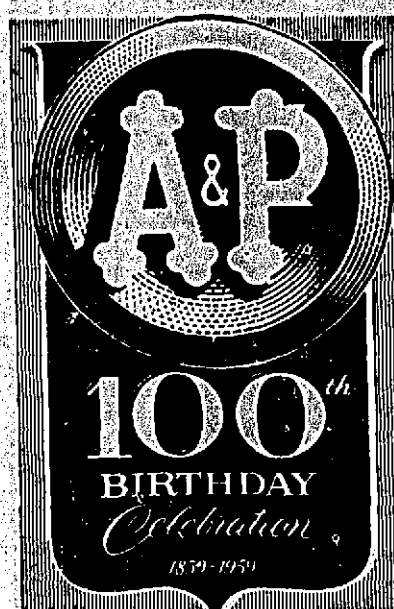

WHEREAS: The basic purpose of the annual sale of Buddy Poppies by the V.F.W. is eloquently reflected in the desire to "Honor the Dead by Helping the Living;" therefore I, George Frazier, Mayor of the City of Hope, Arkansas, do hereby urge the citizens of this community to recognize the merits of this cause by contributing generously to its support through the purchase of Buddy Poppies, Saturday May 9th, 1959.

face the problem at night. In general, there really is nothing you can do about it without being downright disagreeable. Judging from your letter, this is impossible for you. Your mother is a person who loves to be irritated. The more she gets away with it, the harder she'll be able to do it. Your mother is a try to be worse.

You can get some relief by taking a vacation and boarding her with a nursing home while you're away. Don't give her a chance to get a word in edgewise — just insist, but absolutely, that the inner lock be left out when you and your son are out. It's his home, too, and he certainly is entitled to get into it.

Your mother is acting like a child. No one would permit a child to get away with so much. Why should she?

Creamo is preferred because the ingredient from which highest-priced spreads are made is blended with additional ingredients, and together they produce a perfection of flavor and uniformity that cannot be equalled by using one ingredient alone.

Mother, Boy Friend Kill Her Children

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A mother and her unemployed boy friend calmly told officers Tuesday how they planned and carried out the murder of her two young sons.

The couple, who had been in San Diego only two weeks, were questioned by sheriff's deputies as they lay in bed. The boys, 10 and 11, were found dead in the bathroom of the rooming house where they were staying.

The mother, Mrs. Mary Ann Schmitt, 30, an unemployed painter, told officers she and her boy friend, Virgil Brogdon, 30, had been asked to explain why the boys had been killed. She said she and Brogdon had been in the rooming house for about 10 days. She said she and Brogdon had been in the rooming house for about 10 days.
